

Well it seems that some of the advert blockers are now blocking the adverts from our site, you will need turn off the advert blocker when on this site otherwise the main adverts do not appear.

If you are using adblockplus you can very quickly add this site to the whitelist, find the programs icon and then select disable ABP on homeworkshop.org.uk. This will allow the adverts to be shown on this site only. If you are using an addon then check the help for it to see how you can add this site to the whitelist.

We are an advert site so advert blockers can't tell the difference so it's upto you to tell them how to do it.
